Somewhat Unpromising!

The last session of the Missouri Legislature witnessed some funny speeches. One Mr. WHITE, of the House, bore testimony against the proposed formation of a necounty, amidst much laughter, as follows:]

"I predicate my objections to this new county on different grounds, one of the main and most important of which is, that I am confident it would not be entitled to a Representative in the next fifty years. Mr. Speaker! did you ever visit the territory sought to be created into the county of Carter? Did you ever have an opportunity of beholding its multifarious beauties, and of examining its boundless resources? Well, sir, I have. I have been all over it, and all around it, and I do say here openly, and defiantly, that there is not level ground enough within its entire limits to build a pig-pen. The soil is so poor it would not grow pennyroyal. Sir, you might mow the country with a rozor, and rake it with a fine tooth comb, and you wouldn't get enough fodder to keep a sick grasshopper through the winter. Sir, they plant corn with crow-bars, and hold their sheep by the hind legs with a given quantity of apples in a given time, and with much less labor and expense.

Send.—It will make eleaner and sweeter cider than any old style mill.

Third—You can make the cider as you want it, and are principally ticks, and I must in justice say that want to give the say that the tice say, that variety of insects attain a splendid size in this new county of Carter, the smallest that ever fell under my observation being at least as big as saddlebags. As to internal improvement in that section, this House can form some idea, when I assure it that the only thing resembling a road that I ever saw there, was when one of the bare-footed natives dragged a wild boy seven miles through the snow. With such a country as this, Mr. Speaker, they propose to make a new county, and the reason given for so doing is that the convenience of the inhabitants will be promoted thereby! Sir, if it were possible to hold their courts under a shade of post-oak and black-jack saplings, to keep a clerk's office and the records of the county in the recesses of a hollow sycamore, and to make a jail out of some of the dark and slimy caves beneath the eraggy hills of that rough country; if it were possible to establish the machinery for doing business out of such materials, we might entertain the project as feasible and plausible. But, alas ! even such advantages as these are denied by nature to this county. It is true, there would be no difficulty about the caveres for a jail, but the necessary post-oak and black jack saplings, to supply with their foliage a canopy for the august tribunals of justice, could not be found. They are not in the country. As for a sycamore tree suitable for a depository of the archives of the county, it would be sought in vain : the winds even refuse to blow sycamore pods in that direction. And the idea of the people ever being able to build houses in which to transact business, is deeply, darkly, prodigiously, and preposterously absurd!

Real Champagne.

An American traveler in the streets of Paris, seeing the words "Wine baths given bere," exclaimed : "Well, these French Feeling wonderfully refreshed after it, and having to pay but five france, he asked, in some astonishment, how a wine bath could be afforded so cheaply? His sable attendant, who had been a slave in Virginia, and enjoyed a sly bit of humor, replied, "Oh, massa, we jist pass it along into another room, where we gib a bath at four francs." "Then you throw it away, I suppose?" "No, massa; den we send it lowor down and charge three francs a bath. Dar's plenty of people who ain't so berry particular, who will bathe in it after this at two francs a head. Den, massa, we let's de common people hab it a franc spiece." "Then, of course, you throw it away?" exclaimed the traveler, who thought this was going even beyond Yankee profit. "No, indeed, massa," was the indignant reply, accompanied by a profound bow ; "no, indeed, massa, we are not so 'stravagant as dat comes to; we comprising remarkable examples of Femal jest bottles it up des, and sends it to 'Merica, for champagne!"

PRAYING, NO CRIME. - An officer once complained to Gen. Jackson, that some soldiers were making a noise in their tent. "What are they doing?" asked the General. "They are praying, now, but have been singing," was the reply.

"And is that a crime?" the General demanded.

"The articles of war order punishment for any unusual noise," was the reply. "God forbid that praying should be an unusual noise in my eamp," said Jackson, with much feeling, and advised the officer to join them. A GRASTLY "BLUFF."- Squire Jack was a cabinet-maker and undertaker, known far and wide as a master workman. One day, a couple came to his office to get the 'Equire, and he ordered bim off in this wise: "Be gone, you scoundrel!

married. The man's face was familiar to You havn't paid me for your first wife's erffin !" Ike came home from school very much agitated, because he could not understand the principles of Allegation, as laid down in Greenleaf. "There, dear," said Mrs. Partington, "don't fret about it; you must tell the teacher that you ain't no alligator, and I know be'll relinquish you." The lad was comforted secordingly.

"Brevity is the soul of wit."

Hickok's Patent Portable

KEYSTONE CIDER & WINE MILL. PLEASE take particular notice that this is an entirely new Mill. No expense has been spared in its manufacture; the materials been spared in its manufacture; the materials are the very best, and are used unsparingly. The cylinders are almost twice the length of the former, and all including the top cylinder) made of iron. The arrew is two inches in diameter, with a heart 1/4 V thread cut on it. The beam of the press is out eros instead of woodings made every hearty, and the thread of the nut cut for four modes through it. The power of the press is very much increased, and can not be broken by any fair means. The increased, and can not be broken by any fair means. The transparent of the Tib, and other parts of the press, is very perfect. The beaves and hopper are all developed the strengther, the journals run in long learnings; and, lastly, the workmanship shall not be excelled by any machine of the kind whatever—perfection being the sim, both in the arrangement and mechanical department.

Improvements for 1839.—The following are some of both in the arrangement and mechanical department. Improvements for 1859. The following are some of the improvements added this year: The frames are put together with joint belts. A fly wheel 22 lochesin diameter, instead of 16 inches, has been added. The form of the beth has been changed, so as to make them grind eacher and freer. Entirely new gearing has been constructed, and the upper cylinder has been gared down, so that in connection with the teeth or cylinder is shall grind much eacher. With all these improvements, it is believed that there is no mill in the market that will grind as fact or with so little power, nor is there any one that is made in a better or more perfect manuer.

All across who have been obliged to use the old-finish-that is made in a better or more perfect manner.

All persons who have been obliged to use the old-flash bined out mill, are ware how inconvenient it is, and expectally those who have not large quantities of appless it having this mill on your plantation or farm, you can at any time, in a few minutes, make a few gallons of a west cider for present use: or you can very expeditions; is make up a few barrels. The Machine, well worked, is capable of making 6 to 12 barrels of cider a day, with case. It is made to run by horse, steam or hand-power, and when the apples are ground, a boy of fourteen years of age can press the pomnee with all ease.

The following may be adduced as the decided advantages of this Mill:

ded advantages of this Mill:

Februh.—With it you can press your Currants, Cher-ica, Berries, Cheese, Batter, Lard, and Tallow. Fifth.—With its use you can at all times have fresh and smoot dispersion.

With all the advantages resulting from the possession and use of such a Machine—at a price so low that it is within the reach of all—can it be that any intelligent Farmer would do without it?

The annexed RECOMMENDATION is a specimen of the many scores received: pectimen of the many scores received:

During the past winter, I had several boat leads of aplies to make into elder, and procured one of "Hickox's ownatus Corm Mints," and found that, with two hands could make eight and nine harrels of elder aday
the men only working by daylight in the short days feinter. The mill not only performed in the most perect and satisfactory manner, but worked with remarkale case and with a small amount of power. I tried other portable mills, but none that worked with half the ase or speed of "Heckob's Keystone Coler Mill," and I an safely recommend it in preference to all others.

LEWIS PALMER. A RCHITECT and BUILDER, Scrottia, or amg's Evil,

a constitutional disease, a corruption of the weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out a disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destrace, for servence when it may not destroy. The servences tant is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, dis-ordered or unhealthy food, impure air, fifth and fifthy habits, the depressing vees, and, above all, by the veneral infection. Whatover be its origin, it is hereditary in the constration, descending "from parents to children anto the third and north generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the imputies of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the bland of corrupt or abserous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is terned othercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, empire sor sores. This find cor-ruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of his, so that scrafibous constitu-tions not only suffer from scrofilous comdaints, but they have far less power to with-tand the attacks of other discuss; consqueatly, vast numbers perish by disarders which, although not scroft lone in their nature, are still rendered fixed by this taint in the are still reduced from by this faint in the system. Meet of the consumption which de-cimates the human family has its origin directly in this acrofidous contamination; and many destructive discuss of the laver, kidneys, ham, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same rause.

One quarter of all our propie are semfulous; their persons are invaded by this larking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and in-vigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

It is comsined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eurprive and Sain Diseases, Sr. Arthony's Fine, Rose, or Europetas, Propries, Posteros, Blottenes, Blains and Boits, Temors, Terren nd Salt Rivers, Scale Head, Ringwork, RHEUMATISM, STREETITE and MERCURIAL Disgases, Dropsy, Dyspersia, Discerty, and, rnn on Impens Basen. The popular belief in "imperity of the blood." is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsoparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
